A Message from the Board

Say Hello to Our New Board

We hope that you & your families have stayed safe, happy, and healthy throughout the year. With this new season we have welcomed a few new faces onto the S.I.C.C. board. We would like to welcome both Becky Wildman and Ryan Terry. With the addition of new board members we have also reshuffled our individual roles and responsibilities. Steve Dodd is our new Board President. Chelsea Lyda is our Vice President. Becky Wildman will serve as Secretary. Ryan Terry is the Community Outreach Chair. Austin Davis will continue to do amazing things as the Access Chair, and Tony Roberts will henceforth be known as the "Bolting Baron" and will take charge of all things involving maintenance.

Climber Spotlight

Meet Jules Hampton. Jules is a local climber born and raised in Twin Falls, ID. She is a new addition to our climbing community and brings with her a sense of excitement and passion about her newfound hobby. She was introduced to climbing through a friend during a rough patch and has found this new sport to be both challenging and exciting. Jules was thrilled to discover that climbing "is a great outlet for pent up energy. It also helps keep her strong and healthy.

Jules excels at bouldering. She particularly enjoys the experience of climbing on real rock and the thrill that it brings. She would love to travel more, and she hopes that her experiences climbing will inspire new adventures in the days to come. If you're training at the gym or working a sweet project around Dierkes Lake keep your eyes peeled for local crusher Jules Hampton.

Committee Reports

From Tony Roberts “The Bolting Baron”:

The work continues on the Shoshone Lava Tubes. This steep overhung crag offers amazing climbing and will soon sport new bolts, hangers, and permadraws.

From Ryan Terry, Community chair:

I’m super excited to be the new SICC Community Chair. Please reach out and let me know what kind of events you would like SICC to be involved in during the New Year. I’m looking forward to our annual Christmas Party at Gemstone. Please wear your favorite holiday costume and come prepared to climb. A prize will be awarded for the best dressed-participant. I was so grateful to see our members at our most recent events. In September we had our annual fall BBQ and in October SICC hosted an Adopt-a-Crag Clean-up at new crag called The Midway. Thank you everyone who helped out.
