A Message from the Board

Summer is the perfect time to indulge in the sport we love and embrace the challenges that lie ahead. As you venture out, safety remains paramount. Educate yourself properly, mitigate risk as needed, check your equipment, and wear your helmet. We encourage you to stay informed about weather conditions, route difficulties, and any necessary permits or regulations for the areas you plan to explore. By prioritizing safety and responsible climbing practices, we can ensure that our adventures are both enjoyable and sustainable.
